

7th October 2012

A Mini McQueen was run as a try out for a new competition. The targets were scaled down McQueen targets, five to an A4 sheet.

The timings were 3 second exposures with the targets away for 7 seconds. There were twenty exposures, one shot at each exposure.

It was shot using a bipod or bag sitting (or crouching). As one shot had to be put on each mini target the aiming mark was moving around for each exposure.

With a Five Ring measuring 1" and the 6 or X ring 1/4" the winners was going to be the one with the highest X ring count.

Those who shot it thought it was a good competition, so we'll run it again in future. Just a small modification for the future though, the exposures will be down to 2 seconds!
