Mini McQueen

17th March

Congratulations to Mark

The winner looking very steady

The Mini McQueen competition was shot at scaled down McQueen targets at 50 yards. 4 Strings of 5 shots fired in 15 seconds at five individual targets from the prone position using a bipod. The old, bold, lame and lazy could use a bench to shoot from

The competition was well attended with 15 people submitting scores. It's believed that there were probably more competitors who actually shot judging by the voluble complaints coming from the Competition Officer about people not putting their names on their targets.

Some people lost shots due to jams, including those with a bolt action rifle, so all did not go as planned for some.

A family row then developed as the previous Competition Officer Keith M put five good shots on another target that wasn't being used. The current Competition Officer Tim M has disallowed the scores that were put on this target.

Keith M has raised a protest that this was due to the target boards not being legibly numbered. He has asked for either

- a. His scores to be included in his total.
- b. A re-shoot.

The Competition Officer has disallowed this protest.

Could this blatant discrimination be due to Keith having a higher score if his five shots had been included?
