McQueen Centre-fire Competition

16 August

The first use of our new turning targets on C Range for a club centre-fire event. We think someone was after an advantage as he'd planted lots of weeds in front of the targets to camouflage them.

Fifteen shooters turned out to shoot the McQueen competition. Two shooters tried it with .22 rimfire rifles

Two sighters and then ten shots to count at ten exposures of three seconds.

Keith was happy to beat Tim especially as Keith was having his ears blown out by someone's 308 muzzle brake. Unusually nobody got beaten by someone who had borrowed their rifle, presumably Jim had fixed his scope so Phil didn't beat him with it this time. But Phil put one shot to count on his sighter anyway.

Fraser managed, with his .22 rim-fire to beat others with centre-fires, it's a good job he wasn't using his 223!

It is probably worth mentioning that Dave resisted in having the targets numbered while on edge. This resulted in many shooters getting confused and putting shots on the wrong target. Something he avoided by waiting until the last detail and choosing an end target on a half empty line. A cunning plan or what?? Never mind the bean bag he was lying on and he had the nerve to say only softies used shooting mats – are we sore losers? – Of course not!
