Man V Man Competition

2 August

The competition comprises of two sets of five steel plates plus a stop plate. Shot against another competitor the winner is the first to knock all five plates down and then the stop plate. Knocking the stop plate down before you've downed all the other plates is a fail as some competitors found out!

The pairs of shooters have up to three runs with the best of three going forward to the next knock out round.

Fourteen shooters tried their hand, giving three rounds of shooting and then the final.

Dave and Rob prepare for the final

Probably the fastest times were set when Tim and Rob met in one of the heats

Along the way Siobhan knocked her Dad out of the comp to the delight of the barracking spectators. In fact barracking seemed to be the order of the day. The final was between Dave H and Rob F with Rob taking the honours to win. One of his runs was timed at 3.7 seconds for all six plates so if you want to beat him next year you'll need lots of practice.
