Mini McQueen

20 September

The unbounded generosity of the Comp Officer allowed an hours shooting prior to the comp for zeroing at 50m. Some took advantage, others should have done!

Thirteen competitors had a go at the comp which was ten exposures of three seconds, one shot at each exposure with targets away for seven seconds.

Each board had five grey min-McQueen targets – which were difficult to see in the bright light. Two shots on each to count.

Peter got a jam which knocked points off his score, Fraser had a new scope which definitely would have benefited from zeroing and Jon incurred a lecture from the Comp Officer as he wasn't going to hand his target in!

Nigel was trying for a higher score as he handed in two targets – they'd been stapled up together so had exactly the same score.

As usual Jim turned up late as he was busy scoffing cake he'd purloined from Bisley the day before and then he had the cheek to win!
